

Encana announces TSX acceptance of normal course issuer bid

CALGARY, Alberta, Feb. 26, 2018 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Encana Corporation (Encana) (TSX:ECA) (NYSE:ECA) announced today that the Toronto Stock Exchange (TSX) has accepted its notice of intention to commence a normal course issuer bid (NCIB) through which Encana may spend up to US$400 million to purchase up to 35,000,000 common shares during the 12-month period commencing February 28, 2018 and ending February 27, 2019. The number of shares authorized for purchase represents approximately 3.6 percent of Encana's 973,123,364 common shares issued and outstanding as of February 20, 2018. Purchases will be made on the open market through the facilities of the TSX, New York Stock Exchange and/or alternative trading systems at the market price at the time of acquisition, as well as by other means as may be permitted by stock exchange rules and securities laws, including by private agreements. Purchases made by private agreement under an issuer bid exemption order issued by a securities regulatory authority will be at a discount to the prevailing market price as provided in the exemption order. In the future, Encana may also enter into an automatic share purchase plan in relation to purchases made in connection with the NCIB. The company plans to fund the NCIB with cash on hand.

The actual number of common shares that may be purchased under the NCIB and the timing of any such purchases will be determined by Encana. The average daily trading volume through the facilities of the TSX during the most recently completed six-month period was 3,682,580 common shares. Consequently, daily purchases through the facilities of the TSX will be limited to 920,644 common shares, other than block purchase exceptions. All common shares acquired by Encana under the NCIB will be cancelled. Encana has not purchased any of its shares pursuant to a normal course issuer bid within the past 12 months.

Encana intends to execute the NCIB in a manner that is consistent with its commitment to capital discipline by ensuring that the level of spending is aligned with the prevailing commodity price environment and resulting cash flows. Encana believes that, depending on the trading price of its common shares and other relevant factors, purchasing its own shares represents an attractive opportunity that is in the best interests of the company and its shareholders.
